

A FRIEND BACK

Return to Port of the U. S. Cruiser Philadelphia.

In Honolulu Naval Row Once More, Is From Samoa—To Be Here Ten Days.

From away off in the sunlit southern horizon, in the small hours of yesterday morning came the white cruiser Philadelphia, which has been absent from these waters some two months in Samoa, having sailed hence on February 21st, and arrived in Apia March 4th.

At 8 o'clock she steamed into the channel and dropped her anchor in her old berth in naval row, saluted by the Russian frigate Razboynik with thirteen guns in honor of Admiral Kautz. This was returned by the Philadelphia's guns and the hoisting of the Star's flag at the masthead.

The Philadelphia sailed from Apia on her return May 21st and had a pleasant trip all the way up. Although having a foul bottom the time was about ten and a half days. The Philadelphia will remain in Honolulu ten days, and then sail for San Francisco, where she will be put in the dry dock and after a thorough cleaning will sail on a cruise up the northwest coast.

There are but few changes among the Philadelphia's officers, except those occasioned by the sad loss of Lieut. Lansdale and Ensign Monaghan. Admiral Kautz is accompanied by his staff, Lieut. W. G. Miller and Ensign Sellers. The other officers in the Philadelphia are as follows: Capt. Edwin White, commander; Lieut. Com. W. S. Hughes, navigating officer; Lieut. G. H. Brown, H. A. Field, F. H. Scofield and J. H. Hetherington, watch officers; Lieut. Bates, chief engineer; Chaplain S. McAllister, Fleet Surgeon Street, Fleet Paymaster Stanton, Fleet Marine Officer Perkins, P. A. Engineer Bush, Surgeon Lung, Assistant Engineer McMorris, Assistant Surgeon Odell, Cadets Pettengill, Babcock, Sweet, Fleet Pay Clerk Doyle, Carpenter Barton, Gunner Jaffey and Boatwain Crogan. Lieut. Hughes takes the place of Lansdale, killed in Samoa.

Admiral Kautz would not discuss Samoan matters further than to give a general sketch of the situation, which has already been published. He is of the opinion that the Commission would deal justly by all parties and give satisfaction.

On the bridge of the cruiser, in the caskets which were taken to Apia by the U. S. S. Badger, are the bodies of the dead heroes, Lieut. V. Lansdale and Ensign John R. Monaghan, who lost their lives in defense of their country's flag in the Samoan jungle. In the royal cemetery at Mullinua are interred the bodies of the other brave men of the Philadelphia who fell before the bullets of the Samoans. They are Coxswain James Butler, Ordinary Seaman Norman E. Edsall and Privates Thomas Holloway and John E. Mudge, United States Marine Corps.

New Charity Society.

The meeting of Catholic men was held last evening at the Mission and organized a charity society. It will be conducted on a broad plan. There will be no race or color distinction. Catholics of all conditions, whether active members or not, will be assisted if deserving. The Bishop of Panapolis will be at the head. A committee was appointed with A. S. Humphreys chairman, to draw up a constitution and by-laws. They will report at the next meeting, which will be announced later.

Still a Mystery.

The Coroner's inquest on the body of the child found at Kakaako a few days ago was held yesterday afternoon. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth, as Coroner, summoned the following jury: John Kuana, Joe Kolana, Ben Kaapa, Tom Heona, A. B. Hoe and P. K. Kalanoo. After listening to the testimony of Dr. Emerson and the parties who had found the body, the jury returned a verdict that the child had come to her death at some place and from causes unknown.

Kawalahao Wedding.

Miss Martha Keanohou and Mr. Mahoe Aina were married last evening at Kawalahao Seminary, Rev. H. R. Parker officiating. The ceremonies took place in the large assembly room. Mr. Hoke acted as best man, while Miss Kuhlman performed the duties of bridesmaid. A large number of elegant presents was displayed on two tables. There were about 200 guests present. After the ceremony light refreshments were served.

Steamer Kaula.

The new steamer Kaula, now building at Hay & Wright's shipyard at San Francisco for Wilder's Steamship Company, will be about the same dimensions as the steamer Hawaii, of the same company. She will have a carrying capacity of 2000 tons, 20 feet beam and 12 feet depth. The Union Iron Works of San Francisco will furnish the machinery.

The 9 o'clock gun from the Philadelphia awakened the echoes along the harbor front last night. The band, the fine bell which musically sounds the hours, the bugler, the shrill piping of the boatswain's whistle, and, best of all, the flagship's band, are the things that make the big cruiser welcome to the port again.
